

Build Your Own Government Rubric

	5 - Outstanding	4 - Aspiring	3 - Emerging	2 - Developing	1 or 0 - Beginning/Not present
Elements of Project	All elements are included within the final project. Each element is seamlessly a part of the final piece.	All elements are included within the final project. Each element is evident in the final piece.	Most elements are included within the final project. Each element is a part of the final piece.	Some elements are included within the final project. Each element is included in the final piece.	Some or all elements are missing within the final project.
Connection to government type	All of your government laws, rights, and decisions are based around your type of government	The majority of your government laws, rights, and decisions are based around your type of government	Some of your government laws, rights, and decisions are based around your type of government	A few of your government laws, rights, and decisions are based around your type of government	None of your government laws, rights, and decisions are based around your type of government
Creativity	Poster presentation of information is extremely creative	Poster presentation of information is creative	Poster presentation of information is average	Poster presentation of information is adequate	Poster presentation of information is inadequate
Participation (individual mark)	Group member contributed meaningfully to the final project and was a valuable member to the group.	Group member contributed to the final project and was a productive member to the group.	Group member contributed to the final project and was mostly helpful to the group.	Group member was reluctant to contribute to the final project and was not always a useful member to the group.	Group member did not contribute to the final project and was not productive .
In class presentation of government information	Presentation was engaging and included all elements of the project	Presentation was interesting and included all elements of the project	Presentation was good and included most elements of the project	Presentation was acceptable and included most to some elements of the project	Presentation was disorganized and lacked information on the project